LONDON, Feb. 4.—The Government expected

London, Fab. 4.—The Government expected that the blow struck at the Land Lengue by Michael Davilt's arrest would be a crushing one. but heavy as it is to us personally we have stready indications that it will resoil upon the forces of landordism. The upon the forces of bring intimidated least people, instead of being intimidated. thereby, are fronty bearing themselves for the coming structed, and assurances reach me from all sides that there will be no flinching among Irishmen in the arduous times that they are destined to face, Poor Davitt sleeps to-night in the Millbank conviet prison, after his first day of penal toil. He arrived in London enris this morning. Several Irish members of Parliament waited up all night in order to salute him on his arrival, but he was taken away seeretly from an outlying station, privately brought before a magistrate for recommittal and ordered straight to Millbank yesterday. The howls, the cheering, the signs of uproarious joy with which the British House of Commons, the first assembly of gentlemen in the world, greeted the news of Davitt's arrest, made up the most brutal and painful scenes ever witnessed in the chamber. We are doing our utmost to mitigate the horrors of Davitt's confinement, as he is in very delicate health, but we greatly dread the result for him. To-day a strong reaction set in after the first excitement attending the expulsious. The rad-sentenced to fitteen years' penal servitude for treason and feloxy, and was released on a ticket of leave in 1877.

Millbank Prison, in which Davitt is confined, is a gloomy, for reserving the structure, surrounded by high walls. It stands on the river bank near Vauxnail bridge, and was built on Bentham's. Panapticon blas, with six different buildings radiating from a common centre. The prison is intended to hold 1,000 prisoners, but is rarely more than halffull, and cost $2,500,000. Prisoners pass through here for Newfate and elsewhere, and the discipling is the severest in any erininal institution in the severest in any erininal institution in the severest of sewhere he will have to languish for seven years longer, unless released by the present or some subsequent administration. It is not, however, thought that he can long endure the rigors of prison life in the present weak state of his hearth. The prison is valing guarded to forestall possible attempts at resone.

The Dublin correspondent of the Times says: There is no surprise at Michael Davitt's arrest, after his inflammatory and scurrious language is recent speeches in reference to the action of the Government and to Mr. Forster's character. Two gunboats are to be stationed at Tarbert, on the Shannon, to be at the disposal of the coast guardship Valiant. The forces of the batteries in the Shannon are being strengthened. The sentities are doubled nightly.

Dublin, Feb. 4.—At the meeting of the Land League beid to night. Mr. Dillon counselled the people to remain quiet. Mr. Bennian also alterested the meeting. A large crowd outside cheered for Davitt. The aunouncement was received with cheers. There were very few Home Rulers present, but they gradually arrived in the House during the putting of questions.

Mr. Forster rose at 5 P. M. smid cheers, to move the second reading of the Protection bill. In making his statement, Mr. Forster laid stress upon the importance of the retrospective provision of the measure. Relative to the lists of arrests to be presented to Parliament monthly, he said it was not intended that the sanction of Parliament should be necessary for any particular arrest. Later information, he said, made the case in favor of the bill much stronger.

LEGISLATION IN ALBANY.

SENATOR STRABAN'S REPORT ON THE PROPOSED NEW CITY CHARTER,

The Measure Mercliesly Picked to Pieces-Its Defects Strongly Brought Out-A Bill to Guard against France in Labels.

ALBANY, Feb. 4 .- The Legislature transacted some business to-day, but there was nothing of special importance. The Senate was in session less than an hour, and the Assembly not quite two hours. There were a few bills introduced in both Houses. In the Assembly Mr. Russell introduced a bill to reduce the legal rate of interest from six to five per cent.

Mr. Hurd wants laborers on the canals to be more promptly baid, and introduced a bill which will enable the Superintendent of Public Works to get the cash more promptly than the law now provides. It is probably a good bill. Mr. McCarthy desires to protect the public against frauds in labels, and put in a bill to guard against frauds of this kind.

The Committee on Public Health was instructed to send for persons and papers, and inquire into the deleterious effects of elegmangarine and adulterated cheese.

Mr. McDonough wants labor statistics collected and tabulated, and introduced a bill instructing the Secretary of State to do the work. and providing that the State shall pay for it. Mr. Young introduced a bill appropriating $15,000 for the Soldiers' and Saliors' Home at Bath.

The Judiciary Committee reported favorably David Dudley Field's codes, and also the bill to David Dudley Field's sodes, and also the bill to allow the graduates of Columbia College Law School to enter upon the practice of the law without further delay as the law would now require. This is an exception in favor of the present class. The Judiciary Committee of the Senate reported favorably the same bill: also the bill incorporating the Mexican Railroad Company. the bill incorporating the mexican Rational Company.

The Senate passed no important bills. Mr Astor introduced a bill in regard to trust funds and one regulating the sale of poisons.

He knew nothing personally of the charge he had made, but would produce witnesses who would estabbut would produce witnesses who would establish them. He asked Davis if he would vote for his friend Nunn for Secretary of State if he (Littleton) wull-I donate $100 toward his election to the Senate, Davis slid not accept, saying the amount was not enough; he could get $500 if he wanted to sell. He said he might vote a few times for less. The witness said he approached Pinimmer in a committee room and asked him if $100 would pay the damage he would sustain by voting for a Bepublican for Secretary of State. Punimer said it would not; that the responsibility was too grave for so small a consideration. He could get $250 to vote for another man, but preferred his (Littleton's) man if he would pay the same. Representative Head was examined this afternoon, He said he saw a note from J. W. Baker, Republican Representative, to Davis, eaving that he (Baker) and James Trimble, another Republican Representative, would vote for Horace Harrison, Republican, for Senator on a certain bellot, and for him (Davis) afterward.

Other witnesses were examined, but no evidence as to the guilt of the defendants has yet been established. Littleton says he will throw more light on the subject to-morrow by other witnesses he will introduce. iish them. He asked Davis if he would vote for

ATTACKING BISMARCK'S POLICY. Official Reports of Commerce and Industry

BEBLIN, Feb. 4 .- In the Lower House of the Prussian Diet to day debate was continued on the first reading of the bill providing for the disposal of moneys according to Prussia from the surplus of the imperial revenue due to the new indirect taxes. Herr Richter web mently attacked Prince Blema-ck's customs to ley, the failure of which he said, the Chancellor was trying to cover by empty promises. The official reports respecting the im roved condition of commerce and industry were fabrications. The decadence of trade was solely owing to Prince Hismarck's indice. The rise in the rice of to d and the duties on earn and periodical, &c. had coused the present distress, which the bill was not calculated to alleviate.

Prince Hismarca said the till would have to be passed by the old of a suprimentary session of the Dict.
